

GEOLOGICAL ILLUSTRATIONS

BY PROFESSOR JAMESON.

	Page
On the Subsidence of Strata, - - - - -	333
Deluge, - - - - -	334
Formation of Primitive Mountains, - - - - -	335
On the Distribution of Boulder-Stones in Scotland, Hol- land, Germany, Switzerland and America, - - - - -	344
On the Alluvial Land of the Danish Islands in the Baltic and on the Coast of Sleswich, - - - - -	354
On the Sand-Flood, - - - - -	368
Sand-Flood in Morayshire, - - - - -	369
Sand-Flood in the Hebrides, &c. - - - - -	372
Moving Sands of the African Deserts, - - - - -	375
Action of the Sea upon Coasts, - - - - -	378
On the Growth of Coral Islands, - - - - -	379
On the Level of the Baltic, - - - - -	398
Fossil Remains of the Human Species, - - - - -	406
Account of the displacement of that part of the Coast of the Adriatic which is occupied by the Mouths of the Po, - - - - -	410
On the Universal Deluge, - - - - -	417
On the action of Running Waters, - - - - -	437
Connection of Geology with Agriculture and Planting, - - - - -	453
Account of the Fossil Elk of Ireland, - - - - -	486
Account of the Living Species of Elephant, and of the Ex- tinct Species of Elephant or Mammoth, - - - - -	508
Account of the Caves in which Bones of Carnivorous Ani- mals occur in great quantities, - - - - -	516
Cave containing Bones at Adelsberg, in Carniola, - - - - -	540
Tabular View of the Genera of Fossil Mammifera, Cetacea, Aves, Reptilia, and Insecta,—with their Geognostical Num- ber and Distribution, - - - - -	547
Tabular View of the Classes, Orders, or Families of Animals, occurring in a Living or Fossil State, with their Geognosti- cal Distribution, - - - - -	550