

contracted and recurved on itself, is destitute of septa, and terminates in an oval or transverse mouth. The siphon is dorsal. An Ancyloceras,

LIGN. 111.    SCAPHITES. Chalk-marl. Hamsey.

Fig. 1.—SCAPHITES STRIATUS.

2.—Cast in pyrites of the spiral part of a SCAPHITE.

2<sup>a</sup>.—Front view of the same specimen.

3.—Front view of SCAPHITES COSTATUS.

4.—SCAPHITES COSTATUS. (G. A. M.)

closely coiled, would be a Scaphite. Hamsey marl-pit yielded to my early researches the first Scaphites