

LIGN 155. FOSSIL MOLAR TEETH OF RHINOCEROS: $\frac{2}{3}$ nat.

Fig. 1.—A molar tooth, much worn down by use; with the fangs nearly perfect. In drifted gravel; Petteridge Common, Surrey.

2.—Large molar, very much worn by use; the fangs broken off. Kent's Cavern, Devonshire.