

On the 5th, the Peacock anchored in Mbua Bay, about an hour before the Vincennes reached it, all well and in good spirits. The naturalists were now ordered to return on board the Vincennes, and the prisoner Vendovi was also transferred to her, and remained on board of her until the expiration of the cruise.

DILLON'S ROCK.