

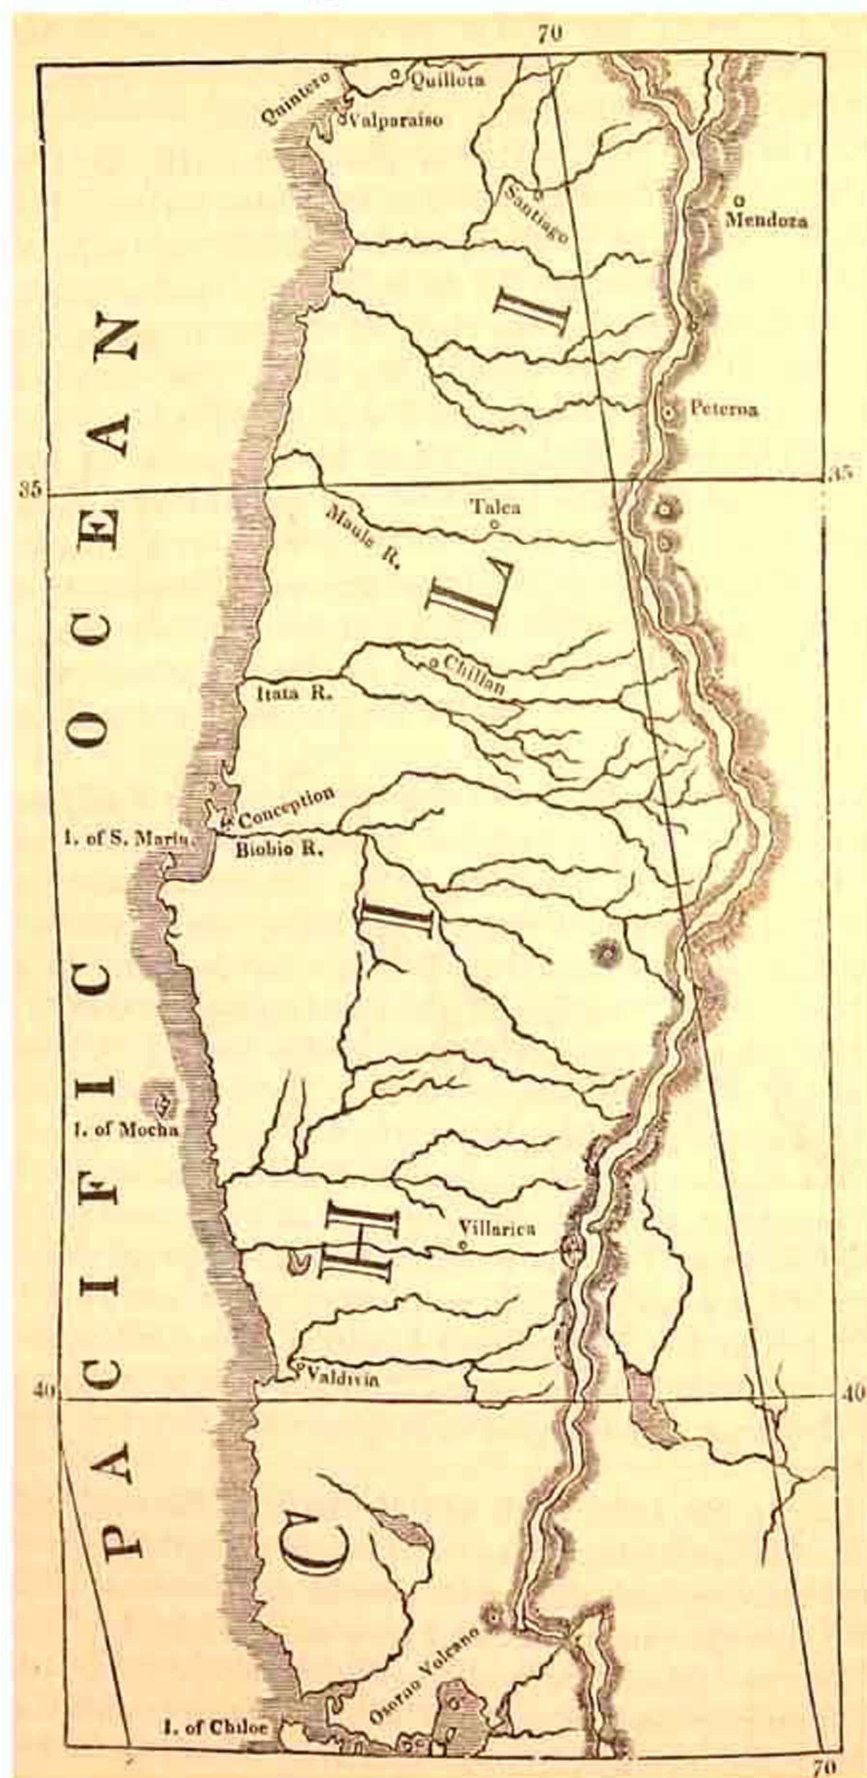

Fig. 52

broke out there near Bacalao Head, about a mile from the shore, in sixty-nine fathoms water, and illumined the whole island during the night.*

"At Concepcion," says Captain Fitz Roy, "the earth opened and closed rapidly in numerous places. The direction of the cracks was

* Phil. Trans., 1826.