

Some marsupial Mammals have left their remains in the Upper Oolite as in the Lower. They belong to the genus Sphalacotherium.

UPPER OOLITE.

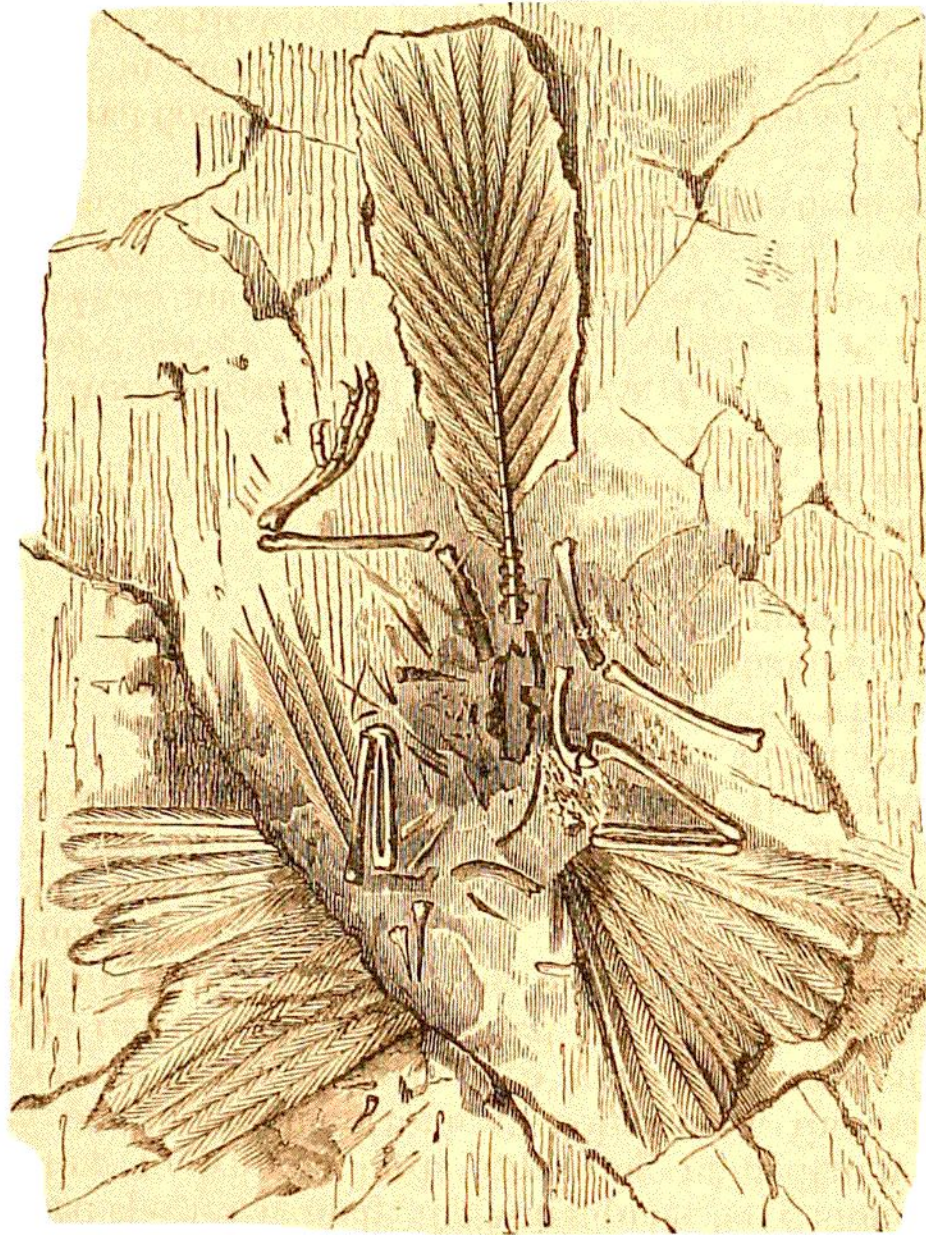

Fig. 122.—Bird of Solenhofen (Archaeopteryx).

Besides the Plesiosaurs and Teleosaurs, there still lived in the marine regions a Crocodile, the Macrorhynchus; and the monstrous Pœcilopleuron, with sharp cutting teeth, one of the most formidable animals of this epoch; the Hylæosaurus, Cetiosaurus, Stenosaurus, and Streptospondylus, and among the Turtles, the Emys and Platemys.