

CONTENTS

CHAPTER I

|                                          | PAGE |
|------------------------------------------|------|
| FITNESS . . . . .                        | 1    |
| I. PURPOSE AND ORDER . . . . .           | 1    |
| II. FITNESS . . . . .                    | 4    |
| III. THE ENVIRONMENT . . . . .           | 8    |
| A. Matter . . . . .                      | 8    |
| B. Energy . . . . .                      | 15   |
| C. Space and Time . . . . .              | 19   |
| IV. THE ORGANISM . . . . .               | 21   |
| A. Metabolism . . . . .                  | 24   |
| B. Organic Chemistry . . . . .           | 28   |
| C. The Characteristics of Life . . . . . | 30   |
| V. THE PROBLEM . . . . .                 | 36   |

CHAPTER II

|                                                           |    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|----|
| THE ENVIRONMENT . . . . .                                 | 38 |
| I. ASTRONOMY . . . . .                                    | 38 |
| II. POSSIBLE ENVIRONMENTS . . . . .                       | 49 |
| III. GEOPHYSICS . . . . .                                 | 52 |
| IV. THE ATMOSPHERE . . . . .                              | 55 |
| V. GENERAL COSMOGRAPHICAL CONCLUSIONS . . . . .           | 60 |
| VI. THE PRIMARY CONSTITUENTS OF THE ENVIRONMENT . . . . . | 61 |
| VII. THE ULTIMATE PROBLEM . . . . .                       | 63 |
| VIII. THE METHOD OF SOLUTION . . . . .                    | 67 |